Data Analysis

Dear Muhammad Yasir,

We are pleased to offer you a place in the Data Analysis Internship at LogicStack.

This project-based learning internship is designed to help you build practical data analysis experience through guided tasks and a final capstone project.

- SQL querying and aggregation
- Data cleaning workflows
- Weekly submissions
- Python and Pandas practice
- Visualization and reporting
- Final capstone project

This offer is based on the information submitted in your application. Successful completion depends on active participation, timely assignment submission, and completion of the final project.

A completion certificate will be issued after successful completion of all required internship work.

We look forward to having you in the LogicStack learning community.
